Consulting Services

Are you looking to find a consultant who knows and works in the field of Public Administration or Emergency Services? The IFCA Consulting Service can help you.

Why Use IFCA Consulting Services?

IFCA Consulting Services offers a professional service specializing in public safety policies, technology and planning. Over the past several years, members of our Association have been providing consulting services to law enforcement, fire service and emergency medical providers, as well as private industry companies concerned with public safety issues.

Our consulting team has approached public safety technology from the unique perspective of forecasting future functional needs of the public safety agencies, and subsequently identifying technologies to support these functions.

Our team will listen to your needs and objectives. We then provide you a proposal and fee information that will meet those needs.

Understanding Current Issues
