

2024 NATIONAL FIRE SERVICE STAFF & COMMAND COURSE MARCH 3-8 | ANNAPOLIS MD

Presented by The Maryland Fire and Rescue Institute University of Maryland in cooperation with The International Association of Fire Chiefs, this course is designed specifically for chief officers, senior administrative personnel and senior company-level officers aspiring to be chief officers of career, volunteer & combination departments.

THE NATIONAL FIRE SERVICE STAFF AND COMMAND COURSE

features nationally distinguished fire-service speakers. Among this year's illustrious speakers are:

Dr. Richard Gasaway

Dr. Gasaway is one of the nation's leading authorities on human error, situational awareness and high-risk decision making processes. His work has been chronicled in more than 450 books, and he has delivered over 4,000 presentations to 62,000+ first responders, business leaders, industrial workers, medical providers, utility workers and military personnel worldwide. Dr. Gasaway served 30+ years in fire, EMS, rescue and emergency management and he held positions of firefighter, EMT-paramedic, lieutenant, captain, assistant chief and fire chief in 6 emergency service organizations in West Virginia, Ohio and Minnesota.

Dr. David Griffin

Dr. David Griffin is the assistant chief of administration in Charleston, SC. His career trajectory from firefighter to battalion chief and shift commander includes his current position. He holds a master's degree in executive fire service leadership, and a doctorate of education in organizational leadership and development. Griffin is an international speaker and instructor, a certified Chief Fire Officer and Chief Training Officer with The Center for Public Safety Excellence, an IFSAC/Pro Board-certified Fire Officer IV and a graduate of the Executive Fire Officer Program from the National Fire Academy.

This course provides participants, under the guidance of leading experts, with five days of in-depth discussions and debate of current and evolving issues in emergency services management facing fire/EMS departments.
